

Saskatchewan CPAP Supply Companies

The Saskatchewan Health Authority provides sleep lab and home testing services. Sleep Disorder Clinics are located in Saskatoon and Regina. In Saskatchewan, testing for sleep apnea is also offered by oxygen or sleep apnea companies and your doctor may refer you to one of these private companies for testing or continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) equipment support and sales. Please contact the company directly to arrange an appointment. People who meet specific criteria may qualify for a Saskatchewan Aids to Independent Living (SAIL)-subsidized CPAP. CPAP's can be purchased privately or may covered by private insurance with a prescription.

Questions you may wish to ask private companies before being tested for sleep apnea:

- How much will the testing cost me?
- Does a Saskatchewan-Certified Sleep Physician interpret the tests? (A Saskatchewan-certified sleep physician is required to interpret sleep tests in order to qualify for a SAIL CPAP machine).
- Do you help people access SAIL CPAP machines?
- Do you provide CPAP follow-up support and is there cost?
- How long will it take to receive my test results?
- Are your staff recognized/licensed healthcare professionals such as Respiratory Therapists, Nurses, etc.?
- Are there any other costs that I might incur?
- Do you obtain an insurance estimate of coverage from my insurance provider?
- Will I be able to borrow and test a CPAP machine at home before I obtain my own?
